RETIRING BONDS
IS ADVERTISEDAuditor Tells City Council it Should Prepare to Care for Maturing Indebtedness.
Half-Million Assets.Auditor E. A. Mossman's report on the city clerk's accounts and the city hall fund was submitted to the city council last night.On April 29 the city's assets were $512,690 and its liabilities $464,235.
All but about $35,000 of the assets are property. The liabilities included $453,000 of bonded indebtedness. The auditor advises the establishment of a sinking fund to retire the bonds.During the administration of Mayor Sellers assets increased $22,821. This increase was due in part to sewer construction, at $12,708.55, besides $2-$14.48 expended for paving; the payment of $6,000 fire truck notes, and finally an increase in funds of $4,991.92.Collections in the first year of the Sellers administration amounted to $104,964.22, and in the second year, $126,164.51. For the two years this total $231,068.73.Warrants paid and returned in the first year amounted to $109,547.94, and in the second year, $137,786.67.In the first year building permits amounted only to $743.30, and in the second year they reached $1,705.51.On the subject of the sinking fund, Mr. Mossman says:"You will note from ordinances that the bonds call for an annual sinking fund of $5,432.33 from 1901 to 1919, to be set aside to retire these bonds at maturity, and from 1919 an additional sinking fund of $34,433.33.
This, provided the sinking fund had its proper amount at this time, as no sinking fund levy has been made. If you wish to retire the bonds at maturity you should make a levy from 1914 to 1919 of $10,411.95 each year and from 1919 of $39,411.98."It would certainly be good business to make a levy for sinking fund purposes, for this would figure at quite an item in the sale of subsequent bond issues. You will note that your last bond issue, 1909 4 1/2's, fell due before the first bond issue, namely 1899 2's."I believe that this sinking fund should receive careful consideration when making your next levy."On June 18, when the city hall fund was audited, there was a net deficit of $334, but the fund has since been replenished and now contains a net balance of $390.The total net expenditures by the building committee on June 18 was $28,395.82. Unpaid vouchers amounting to $2,711.33 and unpaid wages amounting to $204.55 brought the total cost of the building to that date to $31,497.35.Mr. Mossman informed the council that all moneys collected had been properly accounted for. He reported the city hall fund records well kept and in very satisfactory condition for audit.
